Acting on the Message of Passover

THE MESSAGE OF PASSOVER, like that of many of our holidays, is not limited to marking a historic occurrence. As we celebrate the liberation of the Israelites, time collapses upon itself – past, present and future. Not only are we asked to imagine ourselves as participants in the Exodus of old, but we look to apply those lessons to our own moment. As I write this article, I have just returned from Ethiopia and Israel. My observance of Passover will never be the same.

For four days in January, I had the honor of participating in a UJA-Federation mission to visit what remains of the Ethiopian Jewish community, the Falash Mura. The combined efforts of the JDC (Joint Distribution Committee) and JAFI (Jewish Agency for Israel) provide care and education for the Falash Mura and will ensure the emigration of the last of them to Israel in the course of this year. Of all the memorable moments of my trip, one that was especially poignant was flying from Ethiopia together with 70 immigrants en route to their new home in Israel. I recall looking at the flight map on the plane, reflecting how the trip over the Red Sea and across the Sinai desert followed the route of the Exodus – only what took the ancient Israelites 40 years took us four and a half hours.

My short time with the Falash Mura community provided me a very real experience of a modern-day Exodus. All over the globe, there are other individuals, communities and entire nations that still await liberation – physical, political and psychological. Our tradition calls on us, having once been strangers in a strange land, to use the gift of our own freedom to help loosen the shackles of others.

Our community will have an unusual opportunity to focus on the Passover message on Sunday, March 17. It will be a memorable occasion, as we welcome the most renowned Haggadah illustrator of our time – David Moss – to discuss his artistry. The day will continue with a “three tenor” Passover concert featuring our own Cantor Schwartz with his colleagues Cantor Gideon Zelmeyer and Cantor David Berson. Capping off the afternoon at the Men’s Club annual wine tasting, we will socialize over light refreshments while planning how we will fill the four cups at our family sederim.

Our Passover preparations and celebrations begin at the start of the month of Nisan, with the Women’s Seder on March 12, and continue through the last days of the festival with services for the youngest members of our community. See a full listing of holiday events on pages 4-5 and the schedule of Passover services on page 3. May all of our homes be filled with the holiday spirit and may each of us put Passover’s message of freedom into action.

Melton Passover Session – Open to All

The Machine-Made Matza Controversy: Is Manischewitz Kosher?

Thursday | March 28 | 10:30 am – 11:30 am | Rabbi Neil Zuckerman

A little-known chapter in American Jewish history deals with the role of the Manischewitz company in transforming not only the process of matza-making but the character of matza, and the role that both rabbis and advertisers played in legitimating this transformation. In studying the legal, social, and economic repercussions of this process, we will see that this story reveals much about transformation within Judaism altogether.

Open to everyone – current, past, and possible future Melton students.

Synagogue Family

בני מצוה BNEI MITZVAH

OLIVIA BECKER

March 2 | Parashat Ki Tissa

Daughter of Rachel & Richard Becker

Olivia moved to NYC from Washington, DC when she was 8 years old, and has thoroughly enjoyed continuing her Jewish education at

PAS. Currently in 7th grade at Horace Mann School, Olivia has been a student in the PAS Congregational School since 5th grade. In addition to working hard in school, Olivia enjoys playing for her travel soccer team and skiing down as many steep and bumpy slopes as she can find.

As any of Olivia's friends and family will tell you, she is kind, sensitive and thoughtful and always a great friend, sister and daughter. She is a wonderful role model to her younger sibs, Ben and Hannah, who, along with all of us, enjoy her adventuresome spirit and keen sense of humor.

Olivia is excited about becoming a bat mitzvah and was truly inspired last summer during our family's trip to Israel. We would like to thank all of her teachers for the many hours of instruction and assistance in preparing for this meaningful day.

JORDAN LEVINSON

March 2 | Minha | Va-yak'hel/P'kudei

Son of Holly & Howard Levinson

Park Avenue Synagogue has been a part of Jordan's life since he was born. He celebrated his Brit Milah here, has been a student at the Congregational School since 3rd grade and is currently a member of the Tavim Youth Choir.

Jordan is in 7th grade at The Child School. He is an extremely diligent student whose favorite subject is math. After school, Jordan enjoys singing, drums and piano as well as playing and watching a myriad of sports. He spends summers at Summit Camp in Pennsylvania.

Jordan is a great brother to his younger sister Avery. His friends and family appreciate his distinctive voice and persona. For Jordan's mitzvah project, he has used his musical talent to sing to children with special needs as part of The Friendship Circle, a program of Chabad. This has been very rewarding for him, and he plans on continuing with The Friendship Circle after his Bar Mitzvah.

Jordan and his family would like to thank the clergy and teachers at PAS for their help, guidance and growing support over the years.

SOPHIE MOSES

March 9 | Minha | Parashat Va-yikra

Daughter of Heller & Jeff Moses

Sophie has been an enthusiastic part of the PAS community since being a tot at Tot Shabbat, and attending PAS summer camp and the ECC. Her Jewish education has continued at the Congregational School.

A 7th grader at The Windward School, Sophie has been a consistent honor student and notably hard worker. She has spent the last three summers at Belvoir Terrace, where she has pursued her passion for visual art and acting. For years Sophie has been a member of the 92nd Street Y swimming program. She also enjoys skiing, water skiing and tennis. She exudes the rare combination of a truly happy disposition with a terrific work ethic. She is an adoring big sister to Kole and to her new Australian labradoodle, Luna.

Always community minded, Sophie has made her mitzvah project for her Bat Mitzvah a continuation of her prior year's commitment volunteering through We Care on behalf of children in Africa.

The entire Moses family would like to thank everyone at Park Avenue Synagogue for their guidance leading up to this important milestone and for the wonderful education and community PAS has provided through the years. Special thanks are extended to Sophie's tutor, Ariella Wallace.

SOPHIE ASCHEIM

March 16 | Parashat Va-yikra

Daughter of Deborah & Tom Ascheim

Granddaughter of Joanne & Morton Davis

Sophie's relationship with PAS began with her baby naming and continued with her enrollment at the ECC as a 3-year-old. She has studied at the Congregational School since Kindergarten.

Sophie is a 7th grader at Brearley. A well-rounded and curious student, Sophie has broad academic interests. Her Jewish identity permeates her studies as she frequently seeks out an absent Jewish perspective. Sophie likes a good debate and has particularly enjoyed the mock courtroom arguments of the Congregational School course "Law and Order." Outside the classroom, Sophie spends much of her time at a local dojo where she has earned her high brown belt in karate. She hopes to achieve black belt status before high school. A cooking enthusiast, Sophie is devoting her community service time to teaching a cooking class for 5-year-olds at the 92nd Street Y.

Sophie is a warm, happy and enthusiastic presence who makes everyone's day brighter. She and her family thank the many people at PAS that have helped prepare her to become a Bat Mitzvah, particularly Ronit Aranoff.

David Moss: The Art of Passover

March - April

The Song of David: The Moss Haggadah, completed in 1983, is an entirely hand-written and hand-illuminated manuscript on real animal vellum, the first such work created since the 18th century. The project took three years of artist David Moss' effort, with half that time spent on research in libraries and museums on three continents. The research and execution of some of the pages required several months. Prints of individual pages of the Haggadah will be on display.

David Moss made his Recycled Seder Plate from found and recycled objects that play with the meanings of the symbolic foods that we eat at the seder. Like the Haggadah illustrations, the seder plate invites and encourages us to expand on the telling of the story of Passover. The seder plate will go on display in advance of David Moss' visit to PAS on March 17 (see p. 5) and remain on view through that day.

An Amazing Journey

FROM RABBI NEIL ZUCKERMAN, DIRECTOR OF CONGREGATIONAL EDUCATION

From December 23, 2012 to January 1, a group of almost 70 members of the PAS community were on a pilgrimage through Israel. Our goals were straightforward:

1. Introduce children to Israel and our Jewish history in an age-appropriate, hands-on, eye-opening way;
2. Build friendships among PAS families, creating a sense of community and connection to each other and the land of Israel;
3. Reinforce our commitment to Israel and our Jewish heritage;
4. Experience an enjoyable, family-friendly winter vacation.

I am thrilled to report that we achieved all our goals and then some! It was an amazing journey that included the celebration of 13 Bnei Mitzvah in Jerusalem. A great and meaningful time was had by all! But don't take my word for it. Please read the trip reflections below from one of the chairs of the trip, Linda Yarden. I hope her account inspires you to make plans to join our next Bnei Mitzvah Family trip in December, 2014. We can't wait!

Israel Trip Reflections

BY LINDA YARDEN

Israel the old, Israel the new, the physically challenging and the spiritually moving – we did it all! Seventy PAS travelers, led by Rabbi Cosgrove, Rabbi Zuckerman, Rabbi Rudin and Caryn Roman, touched down in Israel on December 23 for an amazing 9-day adventure.

We frolicked in the South, at Makhtesh Ramon, the Ramon Crater, hiking, biking, rappelling and jeep riding. We made our way through the flora and fauna of Ein Avdat climbed the pathways and steel ladders of Wadi Zin and experienced life in the Negev.

We sang. We laughed, and laughed some more. Our bus rides were happenings to be reckoned with! And by our second dinner, the kids' tables were exclusive – strictly NO PARENTS ALLOWED.

Our group headed north to climb Masada, float in the Dead Sea and recite Shehechyanu as we entered Jerusalem. We explored the newly uncovered City of David, the Shiloah pools and of course, the Kotel.

Our community shared a warm and sunny Shabbat both outside and inside the Hartman Institute. It was hard to find a dry eye as our children donned their new tallitot and we celebrated their Bnei Mitzvah. Lunch and a competitive scavenger hunt through the Old City followed.

And then the New Israel. We travelled to Jaffa and Tel Aviv and learned of Herzl, Dizengoff, the Palmach and Rabin. We thrilled to Ben Gurion's announcement of the new state. We shopped Ben Yehuda and Mamila mall. We ate and ate and ate: falafel, hummus, pizza, kosher McDonald's and of course, lots of ice cream.

Whether it was camel rides, a Bedouin dinner, a private tour of the Dead Sea Scrolls, an archaeological dig, a tikkun olam project, dinner with IDF Lone soldiers or discussions with thought leaders about peace prospects and sectarian issues in Israeli society, this was a trip that had a profound impact on us all. We connected as a community and broke (sandy) bread together. Many thanks to all who travelled for a remarkable and memorable experience.

Mazal tov to the Bnei Mitzvah participants!
